Twentynine Palms Chamber of Commerce Executive Director submits resignation

At their August 20th Board meeting, the Twentynine Palms Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors regretfully accepted Executive Director Jessica Wagner-Schultz letter of resignation, effective November 1.

Wagner-Schultz and her husband are moving back to their home state of Wisconsin after he honorably fulfilled his duties to the United States Marine Corps, including deployments to Iraq and Afghanistan.

“Being the Chamber executive director has been a great learning experience, and I’m very happy that I had the opportunity to work with this great community,” Wagner-Schultz said.

Chamber President Gary Daigneault said, “We will miss Jessica very much. We are proud of how rapidly her professional development progressed in the relatively brief period she served as our Executive Director. Jessica stepped up to the plate and proved herself very capable. She will be missed.”

The Chamber’s executive committee has already begun to the search process for Wagner-Schultz’s successor. For information on how to apply, contact the chamber at 760-367-3445.
